

DELIVERING INNOVATION & PERFORMANCE IN MEDICAL DEVICES

SABIC’s medical-grade materials can help you optimize the performance, aesthetics, durability and manufacturability of your devices. Furthermore, they can contribute to sustainability and compliance with existing and upcoming regulations. To help you succeed, we offer a range of expert services including application development, predictive engineering, testing, processing guidance and colour matching. These solutions will enable reduced upfront instrument costs/investments borne by the OEMs today, upkeep and logistics.
